

Four-legged Fundraiser!

On January 30th, animal lovers and four-legged friends will gather for Pawpurrazzi 2009. Held at Jungle Island in Miami for the second year in a row, this extraordinary Humane Society event seeks to raise money and awareness for neglected animals that desperately need a kind-hearted owner and warm home. Philanthropist Patricia Wallace, named chairman of Pawpurrazzi 2009, has been a lifelong supporter of animal rights efforts. As the proud owner of two dogs, Chloe and Hanna, she knows firsthand that a pet's love is unconditional.

Join Patricia and other pet philanthropists for an evening of one-of-a-kind entertainment, music, food and fashion. Pawpurrazzi will pull out all the stops for your pet, pampering them with doggie grooming make-overs, an ice cream bar and a gourmet buffet. And don't miss the "Great Pets Who Walk In Front of Great People" show, where pets and their "people" guests will strut the "catwalk." Go "green" with your gals

Green Dwellers, South Florida's first and only "green" boutique has dreamed up some easy ways to be more environmentally friendly with home goods purchases. Their innovative idea, "Green parties," has taken the Tupperware-style party to a new level. Gather 10 to 15 girlfriends, family members or co-workers and let Green Dwellers host a Green Party at their lovely boutique where you and guests will learn about how you can make simple changes for a healthier home.

No boutique is more knowledgeable on eco-friendly products and also provides such a wonderful selection of goods including linens, baby clothes and organic mattresses. Don't forget to check out their home remodeling products like furniture made with FSC-certified wood containing no formaldehyde, bamboo flooring and beautiful SeaStone countertops made from recycled glass.

Food, drinks, "green games" and raffle will make each party a hit. Call 954.533.2295 to schedule your party or visit greendwellers.com. V

A Palm Beach Debut

The fashionable jetsetters of Palm Beach are chic, stylish, worldly and share a love for exquisite couture. But perhaps, you are one of the Palm Beachers that crave a more non-mainstream approach to style.

Finally, your fashion prayers have been answered with VENUE on Worth. Think of VENUE, Palm Beach's premier fashion salon, as a "conciierge" for all of your fashion needs. Founder and visionary, Alexis Posada, understands that fashion is not something that should be mass-produced, but rather provide a platform for individuality. Each season, VENUE will showcase the most luxurious and unique fashion, jewelry and accessories at their monthly trunk shows, special events and private VIP appointments. Stop by and take a peek at the VENUE Style Registry, a "look book" offering a glimpse of VENUE's impressive lineup of designers. With VENUE's extensive list of additional services, including personal shopping and consultations with the designers themselves, VENUE will become a fashion favorite.

VENUE made a grand entrance in November 2008 with their presentation of Royal & Rolande handbags, exquisite pieces handcrafted in Florence, Italy. Fellow fashionistas gather round and see what this fashion powerhouse has in store for us next!
